British Columbia Discovery Fund Inc. (formerly British Columbia Discovery Fund (VCC) Inc.) Provides Update on Liquidation Proceedings

VANCOUVER, B.C. December 31, 2022

British Columbia Discovery Fund Inc., (formerly British Columbia Discovery Fund (VCC) Inc.) (the "Fund"), by The Bowra Group Inc. in its capacity as liquidator of the Fund (the "Liquidator"), provides the following update as to the liquidation proceedings of the Fund.

Pricing Net Asset Value per Class A Common Share is $1.68 as at November 30, 2022 compared to $2.60 as at August 31, 2022, a decrease of 35%. The principal reason for this change is the decrease in value of the Fund's publicly traded investments in D-Wave Systems Inc. and Tantalus Systems Holdings Inc.

The following is an update of the Fund's portfolio companies and the Liquidator's activities:

1. D-Wave Systems Inc. ("D-Wave") – D-Wave is a quantum computing company based in Burnaby, B.C. D-Wave continues to advance the science used in its products, build its technology, and build its core business of quantum computing services.

On August 5, 2022 DPCM Capital, Inc. ("DPCM") and D-Wave, completed a business combination transaction and D-Wave Quantum Inc. ("D-Wave Quantum") became the parent company of both D-Wave and DPCM.

On August 8, 2022 D-Wave Quantum began trading on the New York Stock Exchange under stock symbol QBTS.

The shares in D-Wave Quantum issued to the Fund are subject to a trading restriction for a period of 180 days from the date of the public listing of D-Wave Quantum.

D-Wave Quantum's 20 day average for Pricing Net Asset Value was $9.70 USD as at August 31, 2022 and $2.55 USD as at November 30, 2022.

The decrease in value of the Funds investment in D-Wave is the primary reason for the 35% decrease in Net Asset Value per Common Share from the last press release.

Details of the transaction and information about D-Wave can be found at: www.dwavesys.com.

The Liquidator is continuing to monitor D-Wave Quantum and assess its strategy for the realization of the Fund's position subsequent to expiry of the trading restriction period.

Tantalus is currently publicly listed and trades on the Toronto Stock Exchange under symbol GRID.

The Liquidator notes that the share price of Tantalus decreased in the period used to calculate the November 30, 2022 Net Asset Value per Class A Common Share.

The decrease in the Tantalus share price contributed to the change in Net Asset Value per Class A Common Share from the last press release however the decrease was primarily influenced by the decrease in value of the Funds holdings in D-Wave Quantum.

Further updates and information about Tantalus can be found at: www.tantalus.com and SEDAR. In particular, see Tantalus' MD&A for the period ending September 30, 2022 for discussion of Tantalus' financial performance.

The Fund's current interest in Navarik is limited to future distributions Navarik may make to its shareholders pursuant to the transaction with Vela.

The Liquidator is continuing to monitor Navarik and the potential for any future distributions to the Fund pursuant to the terms of its sale to Vela.

5. MTI Limited Partnership (acquired as a result of the sale of Mobidia Technology Inc.) ("MTI LP") – Mobidia was a Fund portfolio company that was sold to App Annie in 2015. The Fund's current interest in MTI LP is limited to its respective interest in App Annie shares held by MTI LP exchanged in the sale of Mobidia transaction.

Risk Factors and Forward-Looking Information

This news release may include statements about expected future events and/or financial results that are forward-looking in nature and subject to risks and uncertainties. The issuer cautions that actual performance will be affected by a number of factors, many of which are beyond the control of the Liquidator.

Certain risks include but are not limited to: the Fund cannot assure its shareholders of the timing or amount of any liquidation distributions. The timing of liquidation of the Fund's portfolio assets depends on the timing of occurrence of liquidity events in the underlying portfolio companies and on the timing of trading opportunities for the publically-traded securities in the portfolio, and the amount of such distributions depends on the proceeds realized from such dispositions which in turn will depend on the many factors that impact the value of the portfolio companies. The Fund will continue to incur expenses that will reduce the value of any liquidation distributions; if the Fund fails to retain sufficient funds to pay the expenses and liabilities actually owed to the Fund's creditors, each shareholder receiving liquidation distributions could be held liable for payment to the Fund's creditors, of his, her or its pro rata share of any shortfall, up to the amount actually distributed to each shareholder; if, at the time of a distribution to shareholders, the Fund cannot pass statutory solvency tests, the distribution may be prohibited; there are no assurances that the Liquidator will achieve the same financial results that management might achieve if it had continued as the manager of the Fund; the tax treatment of liquidation distributions may vary from shareholder to shareholder, and shareholders should consult their own tax advisors; and the Class A Shares may, in certain circumstances, cease to be "qualified investments" for "registered plans" for the purposes of the Income Tax Act (Canada).

See "Risk Factors" in the information circular of the Fund dated May 22, 2020 and available on www.sedar.com.
